Executive Mayor's Foreword

justment and performance plan adjustments for the remaining six month of 2018/2019 financial year.

Here are the few highlights of our midterm achievements:

We have opened taps for the first time in various villages across the district benefiting more than 4 000 households and introduced contractors who have started with new water supply projects in other villages;

Embarked on new sanitation projects aimed at ensuring that all our communities have decent sanitation facilities;

Working with MEC for Human Settlements; handed over houses to people who were affected by devastating disasters;

Let me take this opportunity once again to greet all residents of the district and generally all readers of this publication who are within and outside the borders of the district.

We have just passed the half way mark of 2018/2019 financial year. This was a period of reflecting back on what have been achieved, what was not achieved, the challenges encountered and opportunities to be seized.

I am happy to report that our strides of working towards clean governance are starting to bear fruits as we have received the Unqualified Audit Opinion with few findings from the Auditor General of South Africa for 2017/2018 financial year. This is a much improvement from the qualified audit we received in the past years. We will be working to resolve those findings so that we can get another improvement and subsequently the clean audit as per our commitment during our swearing in into this Council.

I wish to thank all governance structures of the Council, management and staff as lead by the Municipal Manager for their sterling work that realised our vision.

We have tabled the mid-term performance report, budget ad-

I, together with all Mayoral Committee members, would be giving thorough feedback to our communities through various communication platforms that include Talk to Your Mayor and Portfolio Head Radio Programme to be aired on our local radio stations.

This this also a period of reviewing the Integrated Development Plan (IDP) and budgeting process for the next financial year. In this regard, together with our local municipalities and various stakeholders we will be embarking on extensive IDP and Budget outreach where we are seeking your inputs as residents on how we should carry development in your wards.

Our communities can also link directly with the municipality through our Customer Care Line which is 086 000 3781.

Thank you very much for spending your valuable time to read this publication and we look forward to your inputs in our developmental agenda

Speaker's Council message

Greetings to all our Readers
The council of Alfred Nzo District Municipality has a mandate to improve service delivery throughout the district by ensuring that all our stakeholders are on par with the current state of the services and the commitments we have with the rural community of Alfred Nzo municipality.

As per the national key performance indicators, we are entirely committed to the following development priorities:

- Service delivery
- Local Economic Development and Growth
- Financial Viability
- Good Governance and Public Participation
- Municipal Institutional Development and Transformation.

We have just received a draft Annual Performance report and have deferred it for scrutiny to the Municipal Public Accounts Committee. This council is trying by all available means to ensure that the role of oversight over the administration is played to its maximum. We continue as this council to ensure the provision of line of march to an administration that is clean, good, and free of faults and stains. It is a mandate we pride ourselves in to ensure an improved service delivery throughout, to provide a sound governance and viable financial state. In order for this to be realised we have ensured in the first quarter that we facilitate several capacity building sessions with our Councillors and Traditional Leaders.

We have recently attained an improved Audit Opinion which is Unqualified. This is the first for this municipality. The opinion comes with matters of emphasis and this means that we still have a big role to play to ensure an improvement

We have had an ID Campaign and Voter Registrations in all four of our local municipalities. We urge our people to go out in numbers and participate in their government by choosing the calibre of leadership they need by voting. The voting date has not yet been pronounced but it must find us all prepared and ready.

The leadership of the municipality is proud to have resolved two petitions it received from Mqhokweni in Umzimvubu and Vulindlela in Ntabankulu. We have made a vow and an oath to prioritize, register and follow up all the petitions because we acknowledge that a government is for the people, by the people. The voice of our communities remains the only voice which we can listen to and we subscribe to Chapter 4 of the Municipal Systems Act.

We have noted with grave concern the murders of the elderly within our district, which we perpetuated by accusing our grandmothers and mothers of witchcraft. We have had interventions in this regard, and partnered with the Traditional leadership, our Moral regeneration movement and our own national artist, Dumi Mkokstad born and bred in this district and all councillors to engage the youth siyothi mababeke phantsi izigalo babuyele ekuhlonipheni abantu abadala...this is not to be accepted in our society. We have reported the matter to the Gender Equality Commission of the province, and they have committed to provide interventions and follow up.

Enjoy this publication.

Attendees and recipients listening attentively to the Executive Mayor as he was delivering the key note address at the women in business ceremony at Kwa-Bhaca

Alfred Nzo District Municipality handed over tools of trade to women in business at the ceremony that was organised to honour and encourage excellence to women in business. The event was held at Tapi River Lodge Kwa Bhaca.

Executive Mayor, Cllr. Sixolile Mehlomakhulu presented those working tools to four young women who defied all odds to be among the best in their respective industries.

Speaking during the official handover mayor Mehlomakhulu said he was so pleased to see young women of the district progressing well without the assistance of the municipality up to so far.

“I commit that the Alfred Nzo District Municipality would continue

“As from today I declare that this programme is going to be an annual event as I expect to address young in different sectors including the unemployed so that they can be motivated,” said Mehlomakhulu.

The beneficiaries were:

Nolufefe Manga from Ntabankulu who owns Fefe Silhouettes. Her company offers fashion and textile solutions. She received four Needles Elasticating Machine and sewing Material;

Somikazi Zulu from EmaXesibeni and she owns Lulo house of Pasty which specialises in baking. Among her products she bakes birthday cakes, wedding cakes and offers variety of desserts. She received a deck oven anvil 9 tray, deck stove which includes 9 backing trays;

Palesa Leeu from Matatiele owns Disweswe Clothing Enterprise and specializes in designing, clothing, boutique, host fashion shows. She received sewing Machine and an adjustable Mannequin;

Nosiphiwo Khango who manufacture hand bags which she sells clothing retail stores. She received walking foot sewing machine and Leather Material

Speaking to Alfred Nzo News Somikazi Zulu said she studied logistic management at Nelson Mandela University and she never thought that in her life she will be a well known baker. She started baking using her mother’s stove until she received more orders and increased clientele base and had to buy a bigger stove from her savings, she considers herself as a social entrepreneur and wishes to further employ more women.

“I have good working relations with the local producers, local cooperatives who supply me with eggs, currently I’m engaging Thobani Ntonga who is an emerging farmer within the district and we will be sampling his flour and see if it meets the standards and then he shall be my supplier” said Zulu.

Nolufefe Manga said: “My company has employed and trained the four (4) young people from Ntabankulu, as I speak with you now the company generates an income and how I wish to expand the business so that job opportunities can be created.”

The economy of KwaBhaca gets a boost and expected to lure external investors as Umzimvubu Local Municipality implements town revitalisation and building new municipal complex offices in KwaBhaca. This was unveiled by MEC for Corporate Governance and Traditional Affairs (Cogta), Fikile Xasa, when he was officially launching a project by turning the sod. The project which is value at R89 million is expected to create job opportunities, and contribute to skills transfer.

The municipality said the new municipal building will not only be for their operations but the operations hub for local offices of all government departments in the locality.

"Our main purpose is to decentralise our town planning to avoid congestion in the Central Business District (CBD) and to create one stop government services for our communities," said the late Mayor, Cllr. Bulelwa Mabengu.

The MEC Xasa said the project was very important as it would assist the municipality to play its coordinating role effectively and ensure that their communities receive integrated government services without struggle.

Umzimvubu Local Municipality said the plan also include construction of middle class housing project precinct as part KwaBhaca face-lifting.

MEC Xasa closed the ceremony of the day by handing over food parcels to needy families of kwa Bhaca in kwa Bhaca Community Hall

PROVINCIAL MASKANDI FESTIVAL

The Department of Arts, Sports, Recreation and Culture hosted the Provincial Maskandi festival in Alfred Nzo district municipality and was organised in Umzimvubu Local Municipality, kwa Bhaca. Umzimvubu Local Municipality is known as the Maskandi area as the well-known late legend Maskandi, Saba Mbixane born and bred to this locality.

The traditional Maskandi artists came from all corners of the Eastern Cape Province to participate on this prestigious event and the event was even graced by the presence of Political Leadership from the municipalities of this Province.

Executive Mayor of Alfred Nzo District Municipality, Cllr Sixolile Mehlo makhulu applaud the department by bringing this event in the district and also made a plea to MEC of the department to make this event an annual programme that is hosted within the district. He further lobbied MEC of the department to note the will of the community members of the district to host the programme as it will lure tourists and investors to our local beauty. Crafters and business fraternity can reap positive spin offs on this event. We want to draw a positive mark of our locality in the map of Maskandi.

Addressing a fully packed town hall, MEC Hon. B. Tunyiswa encouraged the full activeness of the event as it intended to bring back the culture of South African citizens particularly in rural areas, bring back humanity and harmony. Due to the high numbers of unemployment especially to the youth, these kind of programmes create job opportunities, fight poverty and also boost the economy of the districts. She further encouraged youth to participate to these activities as these activities keep them away on doing wrong doings and their minds active to participate on government developmental programmes that are happening in our areas.

This event showcases the talent of upcoming traditional artists and need to make involvement of well-known traditional artists or music companies to be part of this event to scout and expose the talent we have as the Province. The intention of involving these music companies will assist on creation of job opportunities, fighting poverty and at the same time boost the economy of our Province, he said.

Alfred Nzo District Municipality is known as the area with diverse culture and this was testified by the presence of traditional artists from different cultures as majority of our local traditional artist go through the processes of auditions to participate to the Provincial Maskandi Festival.

Audience got the taste of cultural diversity of the Province as the town hall was packed in applause of happiness. The event started at 10h00 till the evening.

This event was attended by thirty two (32) cultural artists coming from all corners of the Province of the Eastern Cape and amongst the artists were the well-known such Inkunze Mdaka, Gxaba Leketile lintombi zika Makhalenkonxeni to mention few, coming from Alfred Nzo District and the emerging local artists. An emerging local disabled artist, Zamile group from the district left the audience abuzz as his performance was amazing.

The participants received the appearance fee of R15 000-00 whilst veterans received R20 000-00.

EASTERN CAPE LIQUOR BOARD EMBARK ON ROADSHOW

The Eastern Cape liquor board is busy embarking on Imbizo as part of their mandate to regulate liquor trading in the province in order to improve the image of this industry. The liquor board landed in the Alfred Nzo District at Rhode village ward 11 in the Umzimvubu local municipality. The road show seeks to educate community, particularly young people about dangers of excessive consumption of alcohol and inconsiderate trading as well as address challenges that communities are complaining about on a daily basis. Speaking during the Imbizo Speaker of Umzimvubu Local Municipality Council Cllr. Sobane Mnukwa said the problem is with the consumers not the liquor and encouraged communities take steps that prevent alcohol abuse as it leads to crime. A 25 year old Sipho Siyothula said he would like to own a tavern one day and he hope that liquor board would continue with awareness campaigns to teach people about responsible drinking. "The issue of trading hours as per the issued licence need to be taken up seriously by law enforcement agencies and the community safety forums as to stop taverns from trading beyond those hours as a safety measure," said Siyothula. According to the reports from South African Police Services area of Rhode has experience growing cases of alcohol abuse and reckless trading. The Eastern Cape Liquor Board has increasingly received reports about the problems that members of the community experience because of alcohol abuse in the area, including cases of murder that are attributed to the abuse of alcohol.

It was one of the unforgettable day for an eight six (86) year old Ncediswa Ndawule who received newly built house at Bhonga Village EmaXesibeni, after waiting for a long time. She has been living in temporary structure for ten years after her house was whipped away by hail-storm. In rainy and windy days the temporary structure would have leaks all over and be forced to sleep to the nearby relatives or under the trees. She said there was a time where she woke up while sleeping under the tree and saw a snake next to her fortunate that the snake did not bite her. "I was living with my (41) year old son Mankahla Ndawule who is mentally ill in one room where we have to do everything which was a big challenge for me, I'm happy that today I will sleep in room with peace" said Ndawule. According to the Executive Mayor Cllr Sixolile Mehlo-makhulu they are still going to continue to do the right thing by change people's lives focusing on destitute households. "We understand and we know that our people are still living in bad conditions, their lives will be changed for the better so I humble request them to be patient" he said.
